Press release No. 6 - September 20, 2007

First Award Ceremony of the Bitfilm Festival in Barcelona

For six weeks the worldwide net community had the chance to watch the 111 films that are nominated for the Bitfilm Awards and to vote for them. On September 27 Bitfilm will disclose which six films are the winners of the competitions. For the first time the award ceremony will take place in Barcelona. It will start at 7 pm at Galeria Niu, Carrer Almogàvers 208, which is located in the heart of Poble Nou, the future district for media and innovation of the Catalan capital. Places for the ceremony are limited, but you may still apply for an invitation at www.bitfilm.com/festival.

“The Bitfilm Festival originates from Hamburg, but in the last eight years it has developed into an international Internet festival”, explains the festival’s director Aaron Koenig.

“Therefor it was a logical step for us to organise the award show in an international metropolis like Barcelona. We are very excited about the creative scene in this pulsating place and we would be happy to contribute in strengthening the links between the port cities of Hamburg and Barcelona.”

The 18 most popular films will be shown, live gigs by 8-Bit-musicians Plemo & Das Feuer from Hamburg will round up the evening. The visuals will be created by the Hamburg based VJ Team Giraffentoast. Free drinks will be provided by Pilsner Urquell and Fritz Kola, and some tapas will be served, too.

Presentation by Companies and Art Projects from Hamburg

Hamburg as a creative city will present itself in a press conference on September 27 at 12 am at the same venue, Galerie Niu, Carrer Almogàvers 208. Speakers will come from Bitfilm Networks, who organise not only the Bitfilm Festival, but also an international networking platform for film professionals, the VJ and animation studio Giraffentoast, and the audiovisual art project TRIP by Frank Otto, Bernd Köhler-Adams and many other film makers, media artists and musicians.
